2015 PETITE SIRAH JACK'S VINEYARD

VINEYARD NOTES

This Petite Sirah vineyard is perched atop a volcanic ridge at the western end of High Valley. Located at 2250 ft. in elevation on the southwestern slopes of High Valley, the soils on this ridge are primarily broken shale characteristic of Franciscan formation (ancient seabed floor) with a light dusting of red volcanic soils intermixed. The depth and complex composition of the soil combined with their unique microclimate stress the vines, keeping the yields low, and the flavors concentrated.
