Winemaker Comments

DUDE. I made a Nebbiolo. I am so excited to share this bottle with you. Nebbiolo is an Italian varietal known for its acidic and tannic structure, all while being quite light in color. I became enamored with the hauntingly good wines of Barolo and Barbaresco and wanted to make a California Nebbiolo. I am so excited about this varietal that I am planting a plot of Nebbiolo in our Russian River Vineyard. I had the pleasure of hanging out with Angelo Gaja while I was in Italy and emailed him to ask what clones of Nebbiolo he thought might work at my vineyard site. Advice from the Master of Nebbiolo is always welcome!! This wine is everything. Aromas and flavors of rose petal, tar, cherry blossom, tea leaf and cranberry with a lingering finish.
